THE NSLC ON MEDICINE AND HEALTH CARE IS LOOKING FOR TEAM ADVISORS FOR SUMMER 2020.

National Student Leadership Conference on Medicine and Health Care Since 1989, thousands of outstanding high school students have attended the NSLC to explore today’s most exciting careers, develop essential leadership skills, and experience life on a college campus. The NSLC on Medicine & Health Care is a 9-day conference providing talented high school students from around the world with hands-on medical experience, opportunities to meet working professionals, and visits to medical and research facilities. Under the guidance of their Team Advisors, these students will explore the ethical dilemmas that often face medical professionals, explore public health concerns, take part in a Clinical Diagnostic simulation, and practice clinical medicine skills.

Role of the Team Advisor Team Advisors (TAs) act as facilitators, presenters, simulation monitors, and resident advisors. The job of a TA encompasses the role of a chaperone, teacher, mentor, and policy enforcer. As a TA, you facilitate and supervise a group of 12-16 students. Many TAs will also lead activities, simulations, and lectures attended by all students. Working with your TA group is an amazing experience as you watch your students make friends for life and experience the world of medicine in a personal way. This is a unique opportunity to serve as a mentor and role model for talented young students and share your passion for and knowledge of the sciences, medicine, and health care. Team Advisors arrive on-site 3-4 days before students arrive in order to participate in orientation and training and stay for at least two 9-day sessions.

Requirements for Employment Team Advisors must be current college students or recent college graduates with a background and interest in the sciences or medicine. The most qualified candidates will have participated in leadership programs, workshops, or classes and will have experience working with youth in a position of leadership. The NSLC is looking for TAs who are interested in and have experience in a variety of areas including scientific research, physical and occupational therapy, social work, public health, and epidemiology. EMT or First Response training is a plus.

Dates & Compensation Team Advisors will receive a stipend at the end of each session. Additionally, the NSLC pays for room & board, as well as transportation to and from the conference. In 2020, the NSLC on Medicine and Health Care will be held on the campuses of many different universities and with varying run dates. For more information, click here. Applications are now being accepted.
