Tips about Sao Paulo from a Law School Alumnus
  • A lot of short-term housing can be found through apart-hotels, where some rooms are privately owned. The best way to find these is to contact the hotel who can then provide the contact information of the private owner. Arrangements can be discussed from there, but often in person. One way to do this is to arrive in Sao Paulo first booking a hostel or hotel, and finding housing once you are in country. Then, you can have face-to-face conversations and see apart-hotels in person.
  • A great neighborhood to look into is the Itaim Bibi neighborhood. It can be expensive, but everything is within walking distance and many young people in their 20s/30s live there. It will also be helpful to ask the employer what safe neighborhoods are within an easy, short commute.

OCS-coordinated Housing
Shared Apartments and Student Residences, coordinated by Puentes Abroad
All Puentes housing is located in the lovely and safe neighborhoods of Recoleta, Barrio Norte, Palermo, and Belgrano (MAP), with easy access to public transportation, restaurants, shops, and internship offices.

The housing fees include the following:
- Placement of students in comfortable, screened, and well-located housing in nice, residential neighborhoods
- Management of payments to housing providers
- Handling of any housing-related issues that arise
- All housing includes bedding, towels, Wi-Fi, weekly cleaning

SHARED APARTMENT: Make friends with your roommates, while also enjoying greater independence. You have your own room in an apartment with other international interns and possibly young Argentines. All apartments are fully furnished and equipped. You share all common spaces in the apartment, as well as a bathroom, with your roommates. The shared apartment is US$220 per week.

STUDENT RESIDENCE: Live with other international interns and students in a residence hall. The residence is similar to a university dorm in that you are in a house or a building with other young people interested in meeting each other. The residence has double bedrooms with shared bathrooms. You also have access to a shared kitchen and living area. The student residence is US$200 per week.

HOMESTAY: A private room in a home with Argentine hosts, breakfast daily, dinner Monday to Friday. US$250 per week.

Alumni Notes
- Monthly rent (approximate): €1,000 to €1,500 for a 2-3 bedroom in a decent area. A 1-bedroom studio can be found for as little as €600.
- For a large European capital, Madrid is an extremely safe city. Having said that, one should take the usual precautions in any big city: watch your belongings!
- Although violent crime is very rare, the Metro (subway), buses and crowded areas are teeming with pick-pockets - so don’t carry your cash, credit cards and iPhone in an open handbag across the Puerta del Sol. Most people in Madrid live inside the city, right to the very center, so the streets are hardly ever empty, and that contributes to the relative safety - except for the pickpockets.
- The first ring road that encircles Madrid is called the M-30, and anywhere inside the M-30 is convenient for residence. Outside the M-30 is also fine, but it there will be an increase in commuting time. The only area which is less convenient, lies outside the M-30 to the south and is shaded with yellow stripes in the attached map of the city. The map also displays the geographical center of the city (Colón) and the old center of the city to the southwest - Puerta del Sol, in addition to the main railway and Metro station.

Yale-NSU College
University Town, where Yale-NUS is located, has 2 food courts (each with 10-12 stalls) + Wendy’s + Subway + 5 other local restaurants + 1 small grocery store. A few minutes away by bus is 2 different hawker centres and a mall with a food court & large grocery store. The commute to the downtown is approximately 45 minutes (the average commute in the US is just under 30 minutes).

Employer Notes
• Renting a single room in an apartment can cost from SGD400 - SGD800 a month. 2-3 bedroom apartments can cost anywhere upwards of SGD1800 to SGD3000 a month. They could possibly bunk with Yalies in Singapore so I would suggest reaching out to the Yale Club of Singapore mailing list or Yale Bulldogs in Singapore. In terms of food costs, it is an average of $20 SGD/day for 3 meals/day. There are many days where you can spend less, but S$20 SGD is a good standard to share so long as students are eating at food courts & hawker centers (rather than nice, sit-down restaurants).
